10th Call for Excellence Promotion Grants for the Master's Degree in Research, Innovation and Transfer in Health and the Master's Degree in Secondary Education Teacher Training

The "Health, Education and Quality of Life" Chair of the University of Lleida, funded by Fundació ASISA, announces the 10th edition of the awards for the promotion of excellence among master's degree students at the UdL.

This call aims to recognise students' academic effort and promote the continuation of training and initiation into research in the fields of health, education and quality of life.

The awards are aimed at students enrolled during the 2025-2026 academic year in one of the following official master's degrees at the University of Lleida:

- University Master's Degree in Research, Innovation and Transfer in Health (MIITS).
- Master's Degree in Secondary Education Teacher Training.

The award consists of a financial contribution of 1,000 euros per student, with a maximum of two awards, one linked to each of the aforementioned master's degrees. Applicants must develop their Master's Final Project in relation to the lines promoted by the "Health, Education and Quality of Life" Chair.

The application, using the model provided in Annex 2, must be submitted by email to the UdL-ASISA Chair (catedrasaluteducacioqualitatdevida@udl.cat [<mailto:catedrasaluteducacioqualitatdevida@udl.cat>]), with a copy to the Secretariat of the Department of Nursing and Physiotherapy (dif.secretaria@udl.cat [<mailto:dif.secretaria@udl.cat>]).

The application deadline is 30 September 2026, at 2:00 p.m.

The application must include the following documentation:

- Proof of enrolment at the University of Lleida for the current academic year.
- Personal academic transcript for completed undergraduate studies and the master's degree.
- Master's Final Project, accompanied by a written statement briefly explaining its relationship with the lines promoted by the Chair, with a maximum length of one page.
